

Keep Your Core . . .

Who She Is:

She shops in English stores regularly. She's young, owns a horse and probably shows in competition. She has taken riding lessons since she was a tot, and she's very serious about her passion for equestrian activities. She wears casual clothes when she's at the stable, including jeans or leggings, T-shirts and sweatshirts and paddock boots, but when she's in the arena, she must dress to impress: breeches, English riding shirt and jacket, helmet and dressage boots. She wants high-quality apparel, because she wants to look good and win.
