

Blankets Go West

→ HORSEWARE IRELAND

The Rambo Quarter Horse Blanket from Horseware Ireland was developed through years of research with the top Western riders. The result is a product designed specifically for the Quarter Horse body type. The blanket features nylon lining that smooths the horse's coat, removable neck cover and tail flaps to protect tails.

Learning from a Smart Blanket

→ BUCAS

From the Emerald Isle comes a high-performance technical line of blanket called Smartex. The blanket has exceptionally strong, high-tenacity nylon outer fabric with a permanent waterproof and breathable coating. All-Fit Design with shoulder darts ensures a proper fit and plenty of shoulder room. Also features secure front straps with hook and loop over-closure.

Just Venting

→ MASTA

The Check-Tech Blankets from Masta feature a triangulated, three-piece gusset system that creates a bellows effect when a horse is in motion. Whatever the pace of the horse, the venting system works to allow freedom of movement and promote airflow. Also features polyester fibers woven into a unique alternating diagonal herringbone pattern.

Customizing No Problem

→ BIG D

In addition to producing a high-quality blanket, Big D considers its innovation the opportunity for retailers to sell customized products. The company can match colors and maintains one of the largest embroidery hoops in the United States for that added touch. ☐
