

- A. A quilted polyester microfiber vest featuring boots and daisies embroidery comes from Wanted Threads Clothing Co. As with many companies, Wanted Threads donates a portion of its profit from pink products towards breast cancer research. www.wantedthreads.com
- B. Pink has it hands down for Heritage Performance Riding Gloves, that offers this glove with its patent pending "Rein Cut" design and "Delta Grip" synthetic suede leather. www.heritagegloves.com
- C. Pink ladies cropped-length cotton and lycra camisole features spaghetti straps with chrome accents. www.leathergallery.com
- D. The Equine Diva Tee from Tropical Rider features black on a traditional pink background with a scoop neck design. www.tropicalrider.com
- E. The ladies pink-brown hand-painted python boot from Corral Boot Co. combines pink with another up-and-coming color, brown. www.corralboots.com

TREND: Do We Still Think Pink?

Yes, but the end of the pink era appears to be on the horizon. A number of apparel manufacturers still have hints of pink in their line-up but say the trend is fading.

