Many sheets and bonnets also perform double duty in hot weather, protecting the horse not only from pesky insects but sun as well. The Rambo Protector from Horseware Ireland is absorbent and wicks moisture away from the horse to help keep him cool and dry. The UV-reflecting fabric protects from insects and the sun. The neck cover is fully removable and attaches simply with Velcro straps. www.horseware.com

The fabric of this multifunctional fly sheet from Curvon is designed to meet the needs of horses that are turned out on a regular basis during fly season. The fabric is nonabrasive and provides protection from flies and pasture mishaps. It screens out up to 70 percent of harmful ultraviolet rays. The easy-to-clean fabric dries quickly, resists mildew and stains. Leg straps and girth surcingle are elasticized to keep the sheet snugly in place. www.curvon.com
